HISTORY.

Salem, Sept. 18.

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

Let us read some chapters of Oregon political history. In 1866 Mr. Mitchell's intrigues demoralized the republicans of Oregon and defrauded them of their chosen candidate. This resulted in defeat of the party at the polls, the election of Slater to congress and the democratic state ticket in 1870. Passing over the events prior to 1873, let us see what were the results of the unfortunate determination of his friends to endorse him in the convention that met at Albany in that year. He was senator from Oregon and had six years in which to redeem himself in the estimation of the people of Oregon and of the world. The disclosures concerning him could not be denied. There was nothing to endorse at that time, and the only reasonable wish he could have was to escape condemnation. He had no business at Albany. He had no reason to fear hostile action, for the party wished to make the best of the situation, and the convention was composed of his friends, as the result unfortunately showed. But he presented himself at the convention called to nominate a candidate for congress in the place of Hon. Jos. G. Wilson, deceased, and demanded from his friends an endorsement, which they were so injudicious as to accord. He was told that his own good required silence. He was advised to make his future career redeem his past, and so secure endorsement in due time. He was assured that the party would resent the act. He was entreated to save the republicans of Oregon from demoralization and defeat by simply keeping quiet at that moment. He was called to witness that the nomination of Nesmith had disrupted the democracy; that we had only to deserve success to win then and command the state for an unlimited time to come. All these arguments were used and republicans unfavorable to him pledged themselves to take no hostile action against him. But Mr. Mitchell ignored it all and demanded and received from his friends then the endorsement he asked. He had his way and brought contempt and defeat on the republicans of Oregon by his selfish and narrow policy.

The further proceedings of that convention were the most lamentable farce ever enacted in Oregon politics. His friends, too late, saw their mistake. One after another distinguished republicans, who before that moment had competed for the recognition of the convention, refused to be its candidate. A good man was finally found to sacrifice himself on the altar of his friendship for Senator Mitchell. He was disastrously defeated at the polls. The people of the whole state actually laughed Mitchell to scorn. Not much over one-third of the republicans of Oregon put in an appearance at the polls. The election went by default. Nesmith had a walkover at a time when one-third of his own party repudiated him. Only two-thirds of the democrats voted. The opportunity passed to make the republican party invincible in Oregon and the disasters predicted by those who saw clearly the situation, came as the result of that endorsement of a man who set himself above party.

Because a man is a friend of Mr. Mitchell he should not be willing to destroy the party that made Mr. Mitchell once a senator. His friends committed a great mistake in carrying out his wishes, but they should not repeat that mistake too often. Passing over that unfortunate act of 1873 and attributing it to misguided zeal of friendship, let us see what followed it and learn the lesson it taught.

The disruption of the party, for it can be called nothing less—entailed the humiliating defeat of Hiram Smith. It culminated in the independent movement of 1874, that again gave the state to the democrats. Only for that unhappy act of October, 1873, committed to satisfy Mr. Mitchell in contempt of public opinion and future consequences, Oregon would have avoided the scandal of Grover's administration and the corruption attending it. Only for [illegible] that Oregon would not for the past ten years have had a democrat in congress. It even came that Mitchell's conduct in '73 resulted in placing Slater as his successor in 1879. Grover's attempt to make Cronin a presidential elector was another result, so that his selfishness actually compromised the republican party of the nation with regard to the presidency.

Even that was not all or the most important result of his conduct, for the defeat of the republican party here actually did result in converting the senate of the United States into a democratic body, on which the duty devolved of counting the electoral vote of the nation.

This is a brief and truthful record of what has resulted from the insane ambition of one man. Now that republicans have again control of the state in all branches of the government, it is well enough to inquire whether the republicans of this legislature are willing to imperil that supremacy.

It is claimed by the Mitchell organs that [illegible] [illegible] and those who oppose him are [illegible]. [illegible] if they are, their motives [illegible] history, as here quoted, should [illegible] [illegible] republican party [illegible] [illegible] REPUBLICAN.

POLITICAL NEWS.

Ex-Secretary Blaine Answers Strictures of Carl Schurz.

BEN BUTLER NOMINATED GOVERNOR OF MASSACHUSETTS.

Republican Prospects in North Carolina and Georgia Considered as Hopeful—Secretary Folger as a Candidate.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Chicago, Sept. 19.—The Tribune publishes an interview with J. G. Blaine in which he occupies nearly three columns in paying his addresses to Carl Schurz on account of some recent attacks in the New York Post on Blaine's civil service record, referring to a statement in the Post that in Garfield's cabinet he plunged into spoils and wallowed in them for three months like a rhinoceros in an African pool. "I mean," said Blaine, "to say it is untrue in whole and detail, meanly and maliciously untrue; so absolutely untrue that there is not one fact or shadow of fact to sustain it." On the subject of Mahoneism Mr. Blaine expressed himself more fully and forcibly than he has hitherto done in any public utterance. He said, "I have not seen a Virginian for months, nor have I written a word to the state. At the same time it is due to frankness that I should express my entire sympathy with the straight republican movement in that state."

"You are opposed to the Mahone movement?"

"Yes, and I always have been. I think it was a great political blunder to unite the republican party with the readjusters. The republican party has been always devoted to the upholding of public faith, and this fact contributed powerfully to the victory of 1880. To turn right round and join the repudiation wing of the Virginia democracy seemed to me the last degree of folly for republicans."

"What would you have advised in 1881, when the split came in the Virginia democracy?"

"I would have advised, and did advise, so far as it was my business, that republicans should adhere to their own standard and not become complicated with any theories of repudiation. In that way good men of all parties would have been drawn to us."

"How was Garfield's cabinet on the question?"

"Divided," said Mr. Blaine, "divided about as evenly as seven men can divide on any question and therefore no positive or effective thing was done in the early stage of the campaign, and the tragedy of July 2d removed it from consideration."

"Well, do you think Virginia should be expected to pay the debt in full principal and interest?"

"No," said Mr. Blaine, "I do not, and her creditors do not expect it. The creditors are willing to make a generous adjustment, but they don't want the adjustment to be all on one side, and have an allowance thrown to them as a bone would be thrown to a starving dog."

"Well, why do you think Virginia should not be expected to pay the whole debt, as other states have done?"

"Principally because she was torn and dismembered by the war," said Mr. Blaine, "and her ability to pay very greatly impaired. No other state of the confederacy suffered as Virginia did. No other state was mutilated as she was. West Virginia, that was torn from her in the violence of war as a war measure, is an empire of wealth lost forever to the old state. No equal area in this country is so rich in natural resources as West Virginia. The people desired a new state, and should have it, but the loss to the old state is very great."

"What do you think will be the end of it all?"

"I do not know," said Mr. Blaine, "but I should be glad to see the general government aid Virginia in some practicable way in settling her debt. When we were at war at Mexico and dismembered her territory, we made her an allowance of many million of dollars, and I think we could afford to be equally just and generous to one of our states that we dismembered for our advantage."

"Would not that strike the country as a novel proposition?"

"It might, but its novelty would not impeach its justice. Another consideration would weigh very powerfully, and that is the fact of Virginia's cession of the northwest territory for the common weal nearly a hundred years ago. I have thought of this matter a great deal since the debt agitation began in Virginia last year, and I have asked myself why Virginia alone, of all confederate states, should be made to suffer disappointment and dismemberment. That which would bring lasting relief and prosperity to Virginia would be the veriest trifle for the general government to concede."

"Have you ever talked this over with Virginians?" said our reporter.

"Never," said Mr. Blaine. "I do not think I ever referred to it to any one. The subject is a very important one, and I have merely thrown it out in this manner. I have no time to discuss it in all its bearings, but I believe it would prove wise, just and beneficial in all its effects."

"Do you think West Virginia ought to pay its share of the debt?"

"Under all circumstances, I do not, nor do I believe there is a state in the union situated as West Virginia is, that would assume any portion of the Virginia debt. You must remember that we did not erect the state of West Virginia to oblige its inhabitants. We did it as a war measure for the benefit of the whole union, and the state of Virginia bore sacrifice alone. It is not, in my judgment, fair or right that Virginia should alone be made a victim for the dead confederacy."

The Outlook in Georgia.

Atlanta, Sept. 19.—All the congressmen in this state have been nominated. The list shows three republican candidates, six independent democrats and nine regular democrats. This shows an advance in republicanism and independent democracy. "Down with bourbonism in all of its shades," is now the prevailing cry in every section, and combined efforts will be made by republicans and independent democrats to free the state from its ruinous rule and open wide the gates for prosperity in Georgia and the south. The outlook is most encouraging, and unless a good deal of counting out and ballot box stuffing is resorted to a majority of the number elected in November will be republicans and independent democrats. Felton and Speer's (independents) election is assured, and the most encouraging news for the anti-bourbons comes from all sections. For the first time in years republicans of this state have come forward and demand their rights as freemen, and independent democrats and liberal minded citizens are going to see that they get them. When the bourbons become thoroughly satisfied that if the election is not conducted fairly congress will take a hand in declaring the result, it is believed they will act honestly and not practice their skilled methods of treachery. The coming legislature to be elected in about two weeks will, from all appearances, be largely composed of independent democrats and republicans.

Secretary Folger's Candidacy.

New York, Sept. 19.—No one can answer the irritating question, "Who will present Folger?" When a leading Cornell man was asked this question this evening he replied, "No one." He would be in the convention, and the sooner he was pulled out the better it would be for the men who were trying to nominate him. The same person is authority for the statement that at a conference held Sunday at the president's house in New York, Secretary Folger was told by a very blunt politician, in very plain language, "You are beaten." This assertion has become known all over Saratoga, and it is accepted as a true one.

The Official Result.

Augusta, Me., Sept. 19.—Official returns from all over the state except six small plantations show a total vote of 138,175; Robie 72,564; Plaisted 63,756, Chase 1298, Vinton 262, Eustis 305. Robie's plurality 8798. The republican candidates for congress are elected by a plurality of a little in excess of that of governor. The republicans carry 14 of the 16 counties. Of the senators 28 are republican and 3 fusion. Of the members of the house 108 are republican and 41 fusionists. In the interior districts the election is not yet decided.

Congressional Nominations.

Boston, Sept. 19.—Republicans of the 5th congressional district have nominated J. W. Chandler.

Pottsville, Pa., Sept. 19.—Democrats of the 13th congressional district have nominated J. B. Withrell.

Cincinnati, Sept. 19.—John F. Follett and Isaac M. Jordan were nominated by the democratic conventions of the First and Second districts for congress.

The Result in Arkansas.

Little Rock, Sept. 18.—Official returns of the state show the following: Berry, democrat, 87,675; Slack, republican, 49,352; Garland, greenback, 10,402; total vote, 147,169; the largest ever polled.

Ben Butler Nominated.

Boston, Sept. 19.—The democratic state convention nominated Ben Butler for governor to-day.

YELLOW FEVER.

The Fever Spreading.

Matamoras, Sept. 18.—During the week ending at 9 A. M. yesterday 27 deaths have occurred in the city of yellow fever, an increase of five. During the 24 hours to 9 A. M. to-day three deaths occurred, two of fever, and during the same period to 9 A. M. to-day two deaths of fever. There are still 70 to 75 cases here, with several new cases daily. The water is over the first bridge of the Rio Grande railroad, which is not safe for travel. The river is falling.

Pensacola, Sept. 18.—The outlook is worse than since the first yellow fever case reported. Twenty-seven new cases are bulletined by the board of health, but only one death. The number of deaths in proportion to the number of cases is very small. In many instances it is decided the disease has been of a mild type. Many colored people are being stricken with fever, and their association has appealed to their race elsewhere for assistance. The board of health ordered closing of the rooms occupied by the Southern Express Co. on account of a number of cases of fever that occurred among the employes.

Relief Committee Appointed.

Memphis, Sept. 19.—At a meeting of the cotton exchange convention held this afternoon a committee was appointed to solicit subscriptions for relief [illegible] yellow fever at Pensacola, Fla.

A WASHINGTON COUNTY MAN SPEAKS.

Forest Grove, Sept. 18, 1882.

To the Editor of The Oregonian:

I have been giving some attention to the senatorial election news from Salem, and the course of our Senator Tyson and Representative Sappington has raised this query in my mind. Suppose that in the course of the administration of justice in this county those gentlemen were to be called upon a jury to try a citizen of this county for seduction or bigamy or any one of the kindred crimes which men sometimes commit, and after being sworn should find the evidence of guilt clear and conclusive, would they convict, or acquit and reward the felon? I suppose they would each say that a verdict of acquittal under such circumstances would involve at least moral perjury.

As senator and representative they have each taken an oath to discharge their duties faithfully. Is it a faithful discharge of duty to vote for a man known to have committed the crimes of which John H. Mitchell is guilty? The people of Washington county do not think so!

Besides Mr. Sappington procured votes when he was a candidate by publicly and privately pledging himself not to do the thing we now fear he will do. Of course, he is at liberty to violate his plighted word and deceive his friends; but we cannot yet think he will, notwithstanding the Mitchell strikers constantly assert that he is a man whom they can manage at their will. We will continue to think yet awhile that Mr. Sappington at least will remain true and preserve his character in this community for integrity.

ONE WHO VOTED FOR MR. SAPPINGTON, RELYING ON HIS PROMISE.

THE CAUCUS.

The strikers of J. H. Mitchell having put forth their utmost endeavor to give him what they call a caucus nomination, but which is in fact a faction nomination, are now making much noise and bluster on the subject of party usage and the binding effects of caucus. Their talk sounds like a joke when the fact is recalled that no man has ever yet been elected to the senate from this state by republicans as the result of a regular caucus nomination. The present attitude of certain men upon that question seems to have materially changed since 1866. Then Gov. Gibbs and Mitchell were the prominent candidates, and by agreement both went into caucus, at least both were candidates before the caucus. But then, as now, there were republicans who did not believe in the system and several, five, we believe, staid out. Of this number, some were friends of Mr. Ben Simpson, and voted for him for senator. Gibbs received as against Mitchell the caucus nomination, but he was defeated by Mitchell's friends after they had participated in the caucus proceedings. We know that Mitchell himself disclaims having taken any part in that matter, but it is difficult to believe that such men as Judge Upton, of Portland, who was at the time Mitchell's most intimate friend and manager, and who has since been appointed through his efforts to a position in the treasury department, could not be controlled by him. In fact it is well known that Mitchell did encourage his friends to stand out against the caucus nominee, and the men who did so have since been rewarded by him. Gibbs was beaten, and no caucus nominee has ever been elected in this state by the republicans, unless Mr. Mitchell's first election was, as claimed by him, a caucus election. If this claim be true, then we have at hand the best illustration which could be given of the evils which may be practiced under the caucus system. For it is well known that the state has not yet recovered from the demoralization occasioned by that election. And the results of the infamous caucus system are already visible in Salem at this session. The caucus system is a scheme devised for the purposes of taking elections out from under the law and of enabling corrupt men to use its opportunities with impunity. It is no crime to buy or sell a vote in caucus, and there is no punishment provided for using corrupt means of getting men to go into caucus. And so we see such men as Starkweather, Sappington, Eakin and many others who were elected in consequence of professed hostility to Mitchell, go into caucus and betray every confidence reposed in them by their people. These men are misrepresenting their constituents, doing violence to their own consciences and sacrificing their manhood. What contempt must all good men feel for those who had not the spirit to resist the "appeals" of a corrupt man and his corrupt lobby? How contemptible are the men who lacked the manly spirit to vote as their judgment and consciences directed? How unworthy are the men who, in abandoning these true guides, have misrepresented and outraged the people who elected them? Caucus was the instrument which procured all this. What the means were we do not know, but the inquiry will be made by their constituents, and an insulted people will demand the answer. It will be well for Mr. Starkweather of Clackamas, and Messrs. McConnell, Marston and Faulconer of Yamhill to contrast the position they will occupy after thus betraying their trust with that of Lee, Truitt, Hawley and Patterson of Polk, and others who have the manhood to do right upon this great question. They will have no questions to answer, and there will be attached to their good names no lingering suspicion that they are either susceptible or treacherous.

THE NEWSPAPER AND THE DOCTORS.

A gentleman contributes to THE OREGONIAN to-day a very clever satire on what he assumes to be unprofessional practice by well known physicians. Viewing the matter from his standpoint alone, perhaps his criticism is good, but it must be remembered that the principal mission of a daily journal is to print the news, and local happenings are by no means least important features. Serious accident to a person, however humble, is of interest to every one acquainted with the person injured. Reporters know this, and in their daily rounds, call on half a dozen or more physicians, in search of news: not to "boom" the men who give information. In Portland, they communicate morning and evening with the hospitals, and when they hear of an important surgical case, see the physician connected with it to get the exact facts. The reporter looks on the physician's name as part of the news paragraph; just as the name of the judge who renders a decision, or the minister who joins a couple in wedlock, or the policeman who makes an important arrest. It completes what he wants to say and what that part of the public interested in the paragraph wants to know. So far as THE OREGONIAN knows, the implied accusation that physicians write up their own cases and hand them in for publication is wrong. In rare instances, physicians have sent for news gatherers to report cases, but as a rule, paragraphs of this character are the result of reportorial zeal, to be commended or censured according to the reader's taste.

"Dr. Bonesetter" demands that new experiments by his professional brethren be published exclusively in medical journals. This is a selfish view. The newspaper of to-day treats upon every subject—the list is too long to print—and has no consideration for those who would withhold from the public for class journals that which would greatly interest or benefit the public. To cite the most important case in history, what would the civilized world have thought if a record of the treatment of Garfield's wound had been reserved for weekly, bi-weekly, monthly or semi-annual publications of small and special circulation? Physicians may wait indefinitely for scientific descriptions of surgical cases, but the public demands news fresh every morning.

The republicans of Yamhill county deserve little sympathy for the humiliation now being put upon them by three out of four of their representatives. Had they selected as candidates men of standing and ability, they would not now be so grossly and shamefully misrepresented. At the close of the session McConnell will go to his home and occupation in Idaho. He has had no business or interest in Yamhill for a year or more, except to subserve his own personal interest by the election of Mitchell. He will doubtless take Marston with him, as the latter has never had any permanent interest in the county, even his legal residence being seriously doubted at the time he was nominated. As to Mr. Faulconer, it is astounding that he should allow a relative, holding a small position in the mail service, to influence him to act against his judgment, against his constituents and so inconsistently with his professions. Mr. Faulconer was so incensed at the action of the Albany convention for endorsing Mitchell that he joined the independent party in 1874 and defeated the regular republican ticket in Yamhill county.

---

From the Oregon (Hillsboro) Tribune: Mitchell's friends claim that he has a stalwart following of 31 votes that will stick to him until the bitter end. To insure an election he must obtain democratic votes. Failing in this he will surely be defeated. Democratic members, if they honor themselves and respect their constituency, will not mix in this muddle. That Mitchell would pay a liberal price for votes at this critical juncture few will attempt to deny. He is an able man, but one whose ambition to again enter the senate will admit of no scruples. Hence there will always be a lurking suspicion in the minds of the people that every democrat who votes for him received a consideration for his vote. In other words, the character of every democrat who casts his vote for John H. Mitchell will be stained with the suspicion of bribery. In view of this, democrats should [illegible] of their own free and stick [illegible] by him.

---

THE OREGONIAN could support the members who refuse to vote for Mitchell and to set forth their representative character against the dictation of the caucus by showing that the situation is precisely like that in Pennsylvania last year when the machine in that state held a caucus, got a majority for Cameron's man Oliver, and tried to force him down the throats of all republican members. But the minority stood nobly by the right of individual judgment, compelled the rejection of Oliver and secured the election of a man who represents the independence and manhood of the republican party of Pennsylvania. The effort now to force on the people of Oregon the one man whose selection would represent political bossism in its worst phases and be alike discreditable to the state and disastrous to the party, ought also to be defeated.

---

The leading hotels last night were crowded with delegates en route to the territorial convention at Vancouver to-day. A finer body of men were never gathered to represent Washington territory. They are an index of her industry, energy and brains.

FROM THE CAPITAL.

[EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SALEM, TUESDAY AFTERNOON.

People who expected to see a public "set to" in the senatorial fight, and who with that hope visited the capitol this morning, were disappointed. The senatorial ballot was conducted as quietly as any other part of the proceedings. Mitchell got the full vote of his caucus, 36. Judge Prim, the democratic caucus nominee, received the full democratic vote and the opposition scattered among half a dozen candidates. The record of proceedings tells the whole story in detail. The situation is rapidly hardening into a deadlock. The opposition presents a Gibraltar front and there is no single sign of weakness. It is my opinion, based upon personal interviews, that they will continue to hold their firm and manly stand; that they can neither be coaxed, bribed nor scared into desertion of their principles. Every man in the list has said positively and publicly that he will never under any circumstances vote for Mitchell.

The democrats voted solidly for Prim and will probably do so again to-day. Having made Prim's nomination unanimous, no man can, without violation of honor, go back on him. Mitchell's strikers claim that they have "secured"—one indiscreet champion said "fixed—three democrats, but the claim is doubtless of a piece with some other reports. From the spirit which the democrats show, it looks as if they will stand by their man throughout the fight. They will go into caucus again to-night, when it is claimed that the "fixed" members will "throw off the yoke." But certain it is, that ten democrats cannot be found who will vote for Mitchell, and I doubt if any will do so.

Already I think the Mitchell force shows signs of weakness. Seven, at least, of those who voted for Mitchell to-day did so reluctantly and several desire his defeat. His strength, when it is boiled down, will be about 24 votes, and these will probably stay with him till the word comes to retreat. The others, I think, will gradually fade away, although a day or perhaps two may pass before there is a break in the line.

The contest is the most severe in the history of the state. It has assumed the attitude of a fight against bossism and involves, on the side of the opposition, the principles which triumphed last year in Pennsylvania and New York. And they will triumph here.

By telegraph, 10:30 P. M.—There is no change to-night. The Mitchell people are "moving heaven and earth," but they have not moved a single man in the opposition ranks. Joint convention to-morrow is looked forward to with interest.

Not Wanted in Washington County.

Hillsboro Tribune.

To prove that J. H. Mitchell is not the choice of the people of Washington county for senator is an easy task. Wilson's vote for congressman in 1872 in this county, was 530. He dying before his term expired, H. Smith was placed in the field by the Albany convention—the convention that adopted the notorious white-washing resolutions endorsing Mitchell. The nominee of that convention received 176 votes in Washington county.

COWLITZ CO. REPUBLICAN TICKET.

The republicans of Cowlitz county nominated the following ticket Saturday:

Sheriff—Joseph Smith.
Auditor—Charles E. Forsyth.
Treasurer—Samuel Vestal.
Probate Judge—S. W. Beall.
School Superintendent—O. W. Barber.
Assessor—Samuel Adams.
County Commissioners—W. H. Black, J. R. Medlock, H. V. Huntington.

The county central committee was authorized to nominate candidates for coroner and surveyor. Jos. Smith was elected chairman of the county committee.

MARRIED.

Sept. 14, 1882, at the residence of the officiating minister in Salem, Mr. Edward Thurman and Miss Minnette Anderson, by Rev. T. F. Royal, all of Marion county, Ogn.

The Miller Brothers, who are at present astonishing the people of Salem with their wonderful performances, will give a seance at New Market theater next Sunday evening. To those who believe in the presence of departed spirits lingering about the places where they lived and moved in the body, there are given strong evidences of a mysterious influence working in these performances. THE 2:50 CLASS TROT

On Monday afternoon when Maggie Arnold and General Crook were to trot, with Hector and Prevost's mare thrown in to make up a field. Maggie had been lame at East Portland and Walla Walla and General Crook had beaten her. Mr. Beach let her up in her work till twelve days ago, when he began to jog her along at a clever clip and keyed her up for this race. The "brains" got it into their heads that Crook was fine as a fiddle, while Maggie was soft and unable to trot a bruising race. The first four or five pools sold with Maggie as favorite, then chopped to even money, and closed with Crook at $20 to $14 on Maggie, and $2 for the field. The horses were called up and got away nicely together, Crook trotting as steadily as a steam engine while Maggie broke, but rallied in time to win the heat in 2:39. No sooner was the decision announced than a rush was made for the pool-box, and Crook was made a hotter favorite than ever at $20 to $9 for Maggie and Hector both, the black mare having been distanced in the first heat.

AN EXCITING CONTEST

Was experienced on the second heat, for a fine start was effected and Arnold began to show a trifle in front as they rounded the turn. But she made a bad break and Crook passed her with his great enormous stride, taking a clear lead of seventy yards before McManus could get the mare settled to her work. "Twenty dollars to five that Crook wins the heat" went up the cry along the quarter stretch, for the big chestnut was going with a stride as regular as an eight-day clock. But the Kentucky mare went along with a gait as rapid and smooth as the flight of a swallow. At the half mile she had passed Hector and was moving upon Crook; around the turn she had got to his wheel, and on entering the straight run for home she was on even terms with him. Smiley drew his whip and the stallion took it like a glutton. Never flinching in his work he seemed to get away from the whip faster at every stroke, and now they were within the crowd. Inch by inch the game little mare forged ahead amid deafening shouts and won the heat by half a length in 2:38½. This stopped the betting, as the "talent" concluded that they had "got in wrong."

THE THIRD HEAT

Requires but little description, for Maggie broke at the corner and Crook got in first again. She recovered more promptly than on the second heat, and was alongside the stallion at the half mile. A short distance further she had carried him to a break and he fell behind her at least three lengths, from which disadvantage he never recovered. Maggie came home an easy winner, General Crook second and Hector third. I append a summary:

Purse $400 for 2:50 class—mile heats, 3 in 5.

The next thing was the half-mile dash for all ages, for which six entries were made. The pool-selling on this race was very spirited and had gone along at a very even jog all the afternoon. The favorite was Blue Mountain Belle, owned by William Gilmore of Heppner, with Lulu Riggs as second choice and Cadie R third.

CLOSING QUOTATIONS.

Luther B. Lindsay had been detailed as starter of the race and the horses took their places at the half mile pole in the following order: Lulu Riggs inside, then Blue Mountain Belle, next Honest John, followed by Cadie R, Little Fred and Seventy Six. There were over a dozen false starts and the crowd became impatient, when suddenly they rushed up in a bunch and down went the flag. The red jacket of Lulu Riggs was soon seen in front hotly pursued by the Belle, with old John third, and the rest straggling along as best they could. The first quarter was run in 25½ seconds, which, in my belief, took the shine out of Lulu Riggs. As they entered the home stretch, the rider of the Belle brought her up with an incomparable rush under whip and spur. Cooper drew his whip and thrashed Lulu unmercifully, but she quit badly, and Belle caught her on the post, beating her in the last two jumps just about two feet. The Belle showed that she is probably a dangerous horse at a longer distance. The official time was given at 49½ seconds.

THE PAVILION

Will not be completely in order until this evening, and it will be time enough to speak of it. From what I have already seen I am keen to predict that it will be the best display of fruits and flowers that has been seen for many a year. The photographers and sewing machine men, of course, are on hand with no end of specimens and all sorts of claims to superiority. Some very choice specimens of iron railing work were brought in yesterday, and there is a very good display of home-made boots and shoes. Everything now looks forward to a large attendance, for the weather is delightful and the elements seem very propitious towards the fair.

The opera troupe gave "Olivette" to a good house, and Sherman's circus had a moderate house. There is also a sort of variety minstrel troupe on the fair grounds.

Second Day.

The second day of the fair was ushered in by a cold, foggy morning, but by eight o'clock the sun was shining brightly and all doubts of the success of the fair seemed to be dispelled. The train from Portland arrived at 10:30 bringing quite a number of visitors, and toward noon the ground began to assume something of an animated appearance, though the attendance is remarkably slight compared with that of former years. However the managers are not at all disheartened, and predict the usual old-time crowds by Thursday or Friday. But few have availed themselves of the privilege of camping, the threatening weather for the past week doubtless deterring them from an attempt that promised much discomfort. On the whole the prospects are not very flattering for a successful fair, but the third day may show a vast improvement. On entering

THE PAVILION

The visitor is at once impressed with the meagerness of the display, and the general chaos that prevails. Exhibits are, however, coming in slowly, and ladies are arranging them in the several departments, with the manifest desire to hide, if possible, the bare, unsightly walls. We recognize an old acquaintance in a bright "log-cabin" quilt, and close beside it are counterpanes, pillow shams, etc., yellow with age, and bearing altogether an ancient, not to say venerable aspect. Home-made white blankets, that have long ago taken enough of the society's money in premiums to buy a pair of the best product of the Oregon City or Ashland looms, hold in doubtful countenance two balmoral skirts of home manufacture, which should years since have performed their mission of keeping some one warm through the damp of an Oregon winter. But it is yet too soon to particularize. The building is very tastefully decked with evergreens and flags, and the play of the fountain is uninterrupted by any other music, although one Salem dealer makes an exhibit of pianos and organs that may speak on succeeding days. The art department as yet exhibits a vast vacuity. The only really interesting feature in the pavilion to-day is the department of antique relics, about which it is pleasant to linger. In fruit there is nothing yet shown. The same may be said of vegetables, even the big squash being by its customary ... vacant. ... fruits, jellies, etc., are shown in limited variety. No dairy products are visible. [illegible] ... The machinery in agricultural hall is as yet mostly conspicuous by its absence. The following is the programme for to-day:

Smiley ran Young Kisler about three hundred yards to save his distance but the judges set him back for it. The second heat was no semblance of a contest. The little bay filly [illegible] caught at once and went along with such a rush that ... broke up and was beaten nearly a distance. The time of the first heat was [illegible] and the second [illegible].

EVERYBODY WAS SATISFIED

That Bonita could have trotted better than 2:55 had she been crowded by a competitor, for Beach sat there with the lines lying flat on her back for the last half mile in the second heat, and he looked as if he had gone to sleep. She is royally bred and has some of the choicest strains of Hambletonian and Mambrino blood in her. In color she is a blood bay, with two white ankles, and in shape she looks more like a thoroughbred mare than anything we have seen bred up in Oregon. Her head is very clean and bony, with great breadth between the eyes, indicating ability to stay well in a hard race. In all, she is the making of a wonderfully beautiful mare and, barring bad luck, is likely to enroll herself among the famous trotters of the coast. Jim Miller grew eloquent over her merits to our reporter as she passed the stand on her second heat. "Bless your old white head, she can trot faster than any other horse in this race can run; and this was the first rail she ever was opened in her life." Her gait is low and easy, and there is not the least bit of wasted force in her method of propulsion. It is difficult to imagine a more thoroughly mechanical gait than she has, recalling what Hiram Woodruff said about old Princess being "a ghost in harness."

THE SECOND RACE

Was a mile and repeat for $300, for which Cy. Mulkey entered Billy Coombs, Jerome Porter Trade Dollar and W. G. Scoggins Jim Merritt. The pool selling on this race was lively and Coombs was an overwhelming favorite, as will be seen by the annexed:

| | | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Billy Coombs | 10 | 7 | 12 | 20 | 28 | |
| Trade Dollar | 3 | 2 50 | 4 | 6 | 5 | |
| Jim Merritt | 2 | 2 | 3 | 5 | 4 | |
| | 15 | 11 50 | 19 | 31 | 37 | |

The horses took their places on the track in the order named and got off at the second attempt, the owner of Jim Merritt being knocked down by that horse just as he let go the bridle. It is a fearful sight to behold a bald-headed man in his agony. Going around the bend Trade Dollar was leading, but Jim Merritt was making a fearful rush for the lead and, in spite of all his rider's efforts to save him for a brush at the finish, he dashed into front place as they passed the quarter pole. Coombs had passed Trade Dollar in the meantime and was hanging on like a specter to Merritt's hip. But the bald-faced horse had plenty of speed and Coombs had found a fleet antagonist. At the half mile pole Merritt was half a length in front, but that long stride of Coombs' was murderous in its regularity. They came home at a warm pace, Trade Dollar dropping within her distance and saving up for

THE SECOND HEAT.

While Coombs ran out ahead something to spare in 1:48¾. Ten minutes after we saw that his run had greatly improved him and he had brightened up perceptibly. "We got a nice scrape out of him, sir," said Charley Marsh, "and the run only made him the better horse for it." Pools now went at $10 to $2 on Coombs and few takers at that. Merritt got the worst of the start this time and Trade Dollar was in the lead, but Coombs outfooted her with more ease than he had beaten Merritt in the first heat. He led her by a neck to the half mile pole and romped home a clever winner in 1:47¾. Merritt dropping within his distance. We append a summary:

Purse $300, for all ages. Mile and repeat.

Cy. Mulkey's br. c. Bill's Coombs, by Shannon, out of Ruth Ryan by Lodi, 4 years, 108 lbs ... 1 1

Jerome Porter's ch. m. Trade Dollar, by Norfolk, out of Eva Ashton by Ashland, aged, 111 lbs ... 3 2

W. G. Scoggin's br. h. Jim Merritt, by Langford, out of Sweetwater by Volserion, 5 years, 114 lbs ... 2 3

Time, 1:48¾—1:47¾

The winner is a handsome brown colt, a trifle less than 16 hands high, with a white heel, a star in the forehead and a few gray hairs on his nose. His back and loins are superb, and his chest is as deep as that of an African lion. He was bred by

WILLIAM H. COOMBS OF S. PA. CAL.,

And named Maxim when foaled. But when he became Mr. Mulkey's property at 2 years old that gentleman changed his name in honor of his breeder. He won three out of four races at 2 years old, three-fourths of a mile in 1:18; next year he started three times and won once, beating Jesse B. and distancing Woodream; and this is his second start this year. He came down here from Baker City in June and was taken out to Hillsboro, where he got lame on the hard track. March let him up till Vancouver fair, where he gave him a run with his shoes against Howell and Caddie R. and got him beat. Now he has come out as good as new, and T. ... who caught him on a mile run last Sunday morning ... says that he is ... angel horse." His sire, Shannon, was a full brother to Molly McCarthy, and his dam was by Lodi, the only horse that ever beat Norfolk ... [illegible] ... colt should not be allowed to leave this state. He carries his weight with great ease, and we do not believe there is a horse in Oregon that can beat him a mile with 110 pounds on each.

WOLFE'S
Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps.

As a general beverage, necessary corrective of water rendered impure by vegetable decomposition or other causes, as limestone, sulphate of copper, etc, the AROMATIC SCHNAPPS is superior to every other alcoholic preparation. A public trial of over thirty years' duration, in every section of our country, of UDOLPHO WOLFE'S SCHNAPPS, its unsolicited indorsement by the medical faculty, and a sale unequaled by any other alcoholic distillation, have insured for it the reputation for salubrity claimed for it. For sale by all druggists and grocers.

CALIFORNIA.

Case Continued.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—The case of Julian Pinto, charged with assault to murder, has been continued in police court No. 1 until Nov. [illegible] Patrick Furns, who was shot by Pinto, has not yet sufficiently recovered to be able to appear in court.

Suicide.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—G[illegible] was found dead in his bed at the [illegible] this morning. He took a room there yesterday afternoon, and during the night took strychnine. He left a letter to his wife, in which he hints at mental distress at some disgrace, but assigns no definite reason for his act.

Shipping Notes.

The steamship Columbia is now in the dry dock at Hunter's point receiving new fittings.

The three masted bark Kioto, for Portland, Or., which put into Montevideo with the loss of a foremast, and the bark Helen Angier, also bound to Portland, which put in leaky, were undergoing surveys July 29th.

The Br bark Goodwood arrived at Rochefort July 5th from Portland, Or. According to the master's protest she struck heavily while crossing the Columbia river bar on Feb. 17th, and on sounding pumps the vessel was found to be leaking more than usual, but not too much to proceed. She also encountered heavy gales on the passage and had her decks swept frequently by heavy seas.

Stockton Fair and Races.

STOCKTON, Sept. 19.—The 23d annual fair of San Joaquin Valley Agricultural Association was inaugurated this morning with good attendance. Entries of thoroughbred stock are unparalleled and other departments accordingly.

Running race, best 2 in 3—Won by Sam Stevenson in two straight heats; time 1:45, 1:45½. Jack Douglass 2d, Birdcatcher 3d, Belle 4th.

Trotting race, class 2:30—Vandelynn, Frank Morocco, Big Size, and Manan entered. The race was won by Vandelynn in 2:22½. Manan 2d and Moir 3d. The second heat was won by Vandelynn in 2:25½, Manan 2d. The third heat was won by Manan, Moir 2d; time 2:28. Fourth heat and race was won by Vandelynn in 2:26¾, Manan 2d.

Third race—trot for yearlings—Mont Vernon and Shipper's chestnut filly, by Nutwood, started, the latter winning easily in 3:09.

A Murderer's Confession.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 18.—Thos. Hamilton, Wm. Anderson and Jas. O'Brien have been brought from San Quentin, where they had been confined as convicts, to be examined for the murder of police officer Scott of this city, in December, 1878. The murder was for a long time shrouded in mystery, but recently officers got a clue pointing to the four men, and three of them they found in state prison. These were brought here to-day. To-night Hamilton made a complete confession, saying that he, Anderson, O'Brien and Eddie Edwards attempted to rob Scott. He resisted and tried to draw a pistol, when Edwards shot him. Edwards is not in custody.

Bodie Mining Notes.

BODIE, Sept. 19.—During the week the Standard extracted 1449 tons of ore, received 2140 ounces of crude bullion and shipped $17,703. The east cross cut on the 1200-foot level is in 295 feet, rock hard. The east cross cut on the 1000-foot level is in 945 feet. The south drift from the same is 485 long and no change in vein. Fifty stamps are crushing steadily.

Powder Mill Explosion.

SANTA CRUZ, Sept. 19.—A small mill of the California Powder Co. blew up this morning. R. Tufts the only occupant at the time was killed and 800 pounds of giant powder exploded, filling the air with flying timbers and breaking windows in the neighborhood.

Died at Deadwood.

DEADWOOD, Sept. 19.—In a dispute over mining property at Galena this evening, Pat Gorman knocked Frank R. Davy down with his fist twice, when the latter drew his revolver and shot Gorman dead.

NEVADA.

Comstock Notes.

VIRGINIA, Sept. 18.—At Silver City yesterday morning Frank Potter fell from a wood wagon and a wheel passed over his head, instantly killing him.

An attempt was made to assassinate John Beck, shift boss of the Osbiston shaft, to-night. As he was going home from work at 11 o'clock a man rose out of a vacant lot near his house, fired two shots without effect and then ran away. It was probably some man discharged from the mine who made the attempt.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

Port Townsend Notes.

PORT TOWNSEND, Sept. 19.—The steamship Dakota sailed this morning for San Francisco via Victoria with the following passengers: Mrs P F Smith, M H Mooney and wife, Miss Mollie White, Mrs M D Fox, Mrs A J Bainbridge, Miss Lizzie Hinds, Miss Blanche Hinds, Miss Dell Hinds, J H M Marshall and wife, Mrs A M Rea and child, A Richards and wife, Miss F Freygang, W Fredericks and wife, Geo Evans and wife, E Peterson, C Neilson, A R Grungrich, E O Grant, Chas E Kellogg and wife, L Korn, Geo McGinnis, J L Latterloe and wife, G Kennedy, A W Shafle, A G Brown, J D VanBuren, J Jameson, G A York, Miss M Elson, Miss A Korn, E T Young and wife, H Doam, Capt Doyle, Miss McGinly, J J Hunt, C Bermer, E Coleman and 56 in steerage.

Rev. J. Reid has resigned his pastorship of the Presbyterian church in this city.

Eddy Barthrop, a boy about 12 years of age, fell from a window in the second story of Bartlett's store yesterday, breaking his arm and sustaining other injuries.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Victoria Notes.

VICTORIA, Sept. 19.—Her majesty's ship Comus is not yet signalled. All arrangements are about complete. The town is full of strangers and more arriving by every steamer from the mainland and Puget Sound. The arrivals from the country districts by stage and other wheeled conveyances are very large. At the present writing there are not less than 1000 strangers in town and every hotel is overrun with applications for quarters, and steamers at the wharves are berthing a large number. Victoria has never before presented an appearance so lively. The young ladies selected to receive her royal highness at the government house and act as maids of honor are Miss Pemberton, sister to Mrs. Cornwall; Misses MacDonald, Charles, Crease, Jens and Ward.

The bark Albany has completed her cargo for London, consisting of 21,098 cases of canned salmon.

The mail steamship Dakota is in port and will sail to-morrow for San Francisco.

LATER—6:30 P. M.—Her majesty's ship Comus just signalled. Landing will take place to-morrow at noon.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Sterling exchange on London banks, 60 days, $4 83½; documentary, $4 82 [illegible] 82½.

Transfers—[illegible].

Bank of England rate of interest, 5 per cent.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Sterling exchange, prime banks, long, $4 80½; short, $4 83. Good commercial. from 16½c lower; documentary 2d½c lower.

Silver bullion, 1000 fine, per fine ounce, 118¾.

U. S. Bonds—3½s, 100¾; 4½s, 113; 4s, 120⅜.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Consols 99 11-16 money, 99 15-16 account.

Silver bullion, English standard, 925 fine, per fine ounce, 51⅞.

Eastern Freight Situation.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The movement at the wharves of California clipper lines is without any perceptible change and the market remains very quiet so far as immediate shipments are concerned. However for future shipment there is more inquiry and prospects are that the season will prove fairly active, although not so much as last year, which, it must be remembered was the most active of the previous five years. The ship A. J. Fuller is the leading vessel on berth but will probably not get away before the 25th inst. Rates for freight are unchanged last week and it is understood that shippers are not allowed to look elsewhere provided they offer a rate within the bounds of reason. Tonnage still in moderate supply, especially for long voyage. The California trade is well supplied and no fears are felt of the future. It is probable that the ship Undaunted will load in Van Vleck & Co's. line following the Lucille. Markets generally are fairly active, especially the dry goods trade and prices are mostly firm.

BABY'S APPEAL.

"What makes I cry and folks say I'se naughty?
'Cause stomach ache, and sour is my mouffy;
'Cause too, can't sleep, and worms bites ze belly;
"Fever," za say, feel like I was jelly.
Guess your babies cry, Dick and Victoria.
When mamma's gone and don't have Castoria.
"You're right!" they fairly yell. There, Uncle Cy;
Cousin Frank have Castoria; he don't cry.

Sellwood.

A Beautiful Suburban Town on the East Shore of the Willamette.

The Best Opportunity of the Time for a Home.

The streets and avenues of this beautiful site are being rapidly cleared, and lots and blocks are now ready for sale.

Its Advantages to Residents

Are rapid and direct ferry communication with the city, almost level and easily cleared ground, good soil, and the facility for furnishing pure water.

The Steam Ferry

Which the Company guarantees for two years, will, in a pleasant ride of twenty minutes, land you where you can buy a lot for one-tenth the sum asked for one in twenty minutes' walk from the business center of Portland; and in the spring, when the large and swift steamer for which the Company is negotiating is put on, the trip will be reduced to fifteen minutes each way, at the nominal fare of five cents.

Other Means of Access.

No other site near Portland has been improved so lavishly by its proprietors as Sellwood, for the convenience of purchasers and residents. Streets have been opened and cleared, and a plank road from the river to the railroad station at Willsburg is projected, and grading and planking of part of it has been ordered this year, connecting, by a ferry soon to be put on, with Fulton and the macadam road. This road will also cross the East Portland and Oregon City road, so that means of access by railroads, steamer and wagon roads will be unequaled.

Pure Spring Water.

EDUCATIONAL.

ST. HELEN'S HALL.

ART DEPARTMENT.

THE CORPS OF TEACHERS LONG ENGAGED in St. Helen's Hall has just been reinforced by the addition of six new teachers, five of them from prominent educational institutions of the Eastern States. Two of these are engaged in the Musical Department, three in the English, and one (MISS FULLICK) in the Art Department.

MISS FULLICK is a lady of English birth, but educated in this country. She was graduated at Vassar College, and has since spent much time in the best private Studios in the Eastern States. She comes with the highest recommendations for her attainments and skill as a teacher of Painting and Drawing. These cover the whole ground of instruction in the best Art Schools, embracing Oil Painting in Landscape, Flower and Still-life studies; Crayon, Charcoal, Water-colors, Pencil, Pen and Ink, and Decorative Art in all its branches.

MISS FULLICK is a lady of liberal education and superior culture, and the Rector and Principal of St. Helen's Hall recommend this department of their school to its patrons with entire confidence, being well assured that it was never under a more competent instructor, or one of more varied requirements.
